

BIOMASS SUPPLIERS – we will help you get money from BCAP!

Biomass Crop Assistance Program (BCAP)

Under the Farm Service Agency (FSA) of the USDA, BCAP can provide financial assistance to biomass suppliers that deliver woody biomass to certain biomass conversion facilities for uses such as heat, power, fuels, or biofuels (power plants, pellet plants and pulp and paper mills that use wood for power or steam generation).

According to the BCAP regs, owners of eligible biomass material can receive payments of $1 for every $1 received from the biomass facility, per dry ton, for the commercial sale and delivery of the biomass, up to $45 per dry ton (this means about half that for each green ton payment received).

In order to receive payments, biomass producers who sign up for the program must submit applications to the county Farm Service Agency (FSA) office where the biomass was harvested. Applications must be submitted before each delivery of the eligible material, and in addition, a “request for payment” application must be approved before any payment is received for the material.

Like most government programs, BCAP is complicated and has a lot of paperwork. We can do all of this for you – and get you the money you are entitled to.
